

ASG Enhanced Income Feeder Fund USD

Diversified Income Portfolio

ASG CAPITAL
ASSET MANAGEMENT

As of March 31, 2023

INVESTMENT STRATEGY

ASG Enhanced Income Fund seeks to generate long-term value for investors, through an income-generating portfolio of securities providing high recurring returns.

These include Preferred Securities issued by Large Corporations, Subordinated Debt, Hybrid Securities, Contingent Convertible Bonds, Dividend Earning Equity and Real Estate Income generating investment vehicles.

Overseen by experienced managers, the ASG Enhanced Income Fund will be looking to obtain a high-performance potential through a well-diversified portfolio of international investments.

Through our dynamic and action investment approach, ASG Capital strategically invests in investment companies with strong balance sheets and sustainable earnings patterns that we believe they will reach a performance over and above an equivalent static portfolio.

By leveraging the interest premium available, the Fund gives investors a unique opportunity to obtain high recurring income returns which can be distributed on a quarterly basis.

This investment vehicle is available to Non-US accredited investors only.

PERFORMANCE COMMENTARY

The ASG Capital Fund performance was -3.32% this month. The volatility in the Fixed Income market was elevated during March reaching a peak at 198 in the MOVE index, following the Silicon Valley Bank and Credit Suisse collapse. It then fell back to 135 towards the end of the month.

We maintain balanced allocations:

- Overweight long maturity dated or callable bonds 5years. The duration was increased marginally from 2.7 to 2.8 years.
- Underweight on Additional Tier 1 USD. Even though AT1 instruments are at distressed price levels offering very high yield returns, the fallout from Credit Suisse has been a negative for the liquidity in this market.
- Underweight Subordinated Floaters. The fall in Medium- and Long-term interest rates are pointing to a probable monetary pause coming soon. The possibility of a reduction in rates over the next 12months is now increasing.
- Neutral on Short dated maturity bonds less than 1year.

US 2year swap rates fell -0.87%, -16% from the previous month. US 10year swap rates also fell -0.54%, a -14% decrease. The interest rate curve between short- and long-term rates remains inverted, pointing to slowing economic conditions. The US Dollar DXY currency index fell -1.9% in March.

Banking stress, and the collapse of major institutions, notably Silicon Valley Bank and Credit Suisse, had a negative influence on the performance of subordinated debt in March 2023. The ASG Capital fund did not hold any exposure to these two banks.

ASG Capital's specific allocation to AT1s has always been prudent. It currently stands at around 23% (the industry average is often above 50%). The ASG Capital allocation is spread over 17 bank issuers. Individual allocations range from 0.8% to 2.3% of the fund. As part of ASG Capital's risk management process, allocations to any 'private' issuer regardless of the status of the instrument have always been maintained under 3%, since the launch of the fund.
